Happy New Year and Welcome to 2023

Prospectus shared: Expressions of interest due 31 March

Thank you to everyone involved in the Roundtables and final Workshops in 2022. As a result of your participation, we were able to refine our project development and release the final Prospectus for the follow-on project just before Christmas.

The follow-on project will be called, 'Innovative Learning Environments and Student Experience: The Evidence', in response to the comprehensive call for evidence across the sectors and geographies that participated in the Scoping Study.

Expressions of interest for this project are being called, with EOI letters due by 31 March 2023. For simplicity, each EOI will be called a Consortium – but these may be from one organisation, or a collective of organisations (similar to how the Teams operated in the Scoping Study).

Please circulate the Prospectus as widely as you like. Wes and Julia are both available to talk with you as you begin formulating your Consortiums, and are keen to help you through this process prior to the March EOI due date.

White Paper Update

The ILESE: Scoping Study Management Team are continuing work on the refinement of the White Paper. We are on track for this to be circulated in February, and will be in touch towards the end of January with dates for the final Regional Zooms of the Scoping Study.

These Regional Zooms will be arranged for February – they will be a celebration of the Scoping Study as well as the official release of the White Paper. The Scoping Study has been an incredibly valuable experience. Not only has it produced four major outputs (two technical workshop reports, a Delphi report, and the White Paper), we have also successfully collaborated on a major project across industries and geographies. We will keep refining these processes as we move into the follow-on project.

Timeline

Now: Partner organisations negotiate their own Consortiums. Please contact Wes or Julia (details on the Prospectus) if you are interested as we can help you through this process.

By 31 March: Lodge an expression of interest letter. A template is available online at www.ilesescopingstudy.com.au/eoi or you can email Wes or Julia for a copy.

By 30 April: The LEaRN Team will issue Contract 1, which commits Consortiums to fund (AUD$10,000) to participate in the 2023 development phase of the project.

May-September: Development Phase of the project. The LEaRN Team works with Consortiums to develop the full project.
